

The Idea of copy protexting HDTV broadcasts is not practicle. Copy protecting in the past has been more than a hassle for people that actually legally purchased the copy protected item. What does this mean for people that spent hundreds of dollars on HDTV equipment? Does this mean that people like me will have to buy additional equipment? I feel that this is unfair and unjust.

Thank You
David Robinson